2012 East Division Champions
(Conference Carolinas)

2012 Conference Carolinas Champions

2013 NCAA Tournament Participant

2 South Atlantic All-Conference Players

2 South Atlantic All-Freshman Team Player

Head Volleyball Coach
Lettie Wilkes (4th Year)

In just four seasons at Queens University of Charlotte Coach Wilkes has made an impact to the Royals Volleyball program. Coach Wilkes enters her tenth season in collegiate coaching and has led the Royals to three of the best seasons in program history. Coach Wilkes has compiled an overall record of 68-58 with the 2011 and 2012 seasons consisting of back to back 20-plus wins. In 2012, the Royals volleyball team became East Division Conference Carolina Champions and regular season Conference Carolina Champions. In 2013, the Royals volleyball program entered its first season in the South Atlantic Conference where the team finished tied for third place. Coach Wilkes and the Royals team made program history that same season by earning their first ever NCAA regional bid. Under the direction of Wilkes, Royals players have had a direct impact to the volleyball program's career statistical records, with many leading the record books in assist, kills, and digs along with being awarded all-conference honors. Wilkes was named to the 2009 Inaugural American Volleyball Coaches Association "Thirty Under 30" award which recognizes up-and-coming coaching talent at all levels of the sport. Coach Wilkes was a former standout setter and student-athlete at conference opponent, Catawba College (03').

Associate Head Coach
Tammi Fries (3rd Year)

Tammi Fries (pronounced freeze) is the associate head coach in her third year with the Royals volleyball program and her tenth season as a collegiate coach. As an assistant within the program, she has the primary responsibilities of training all hitters, coordinating team defense, scouting, and being recruiting coordinator. In 2013, Fries was given the AVCA's "Thirty Under 30" award which recognizes up-and-coming coaching talent at all levels of the sport. Fries has been an intricate part to the success with the recent seasons at Queens and assisted in leading the team to a 2013 NCAA regional bid. Fries is a former student-athlete and played right side hitter at Campbell University (04').
